

villa obregon malaga

nestled in the blossomy hills of Málaga, this stunning holiday home is steeped in Andalusian elegance. Walking through Villa Obregon is reminiscent of taking a trip across several continents. It is decorated with a tasteful mix of Spanish architecture, art-deco, English, and colonial styles creating different ambiances, yet similar mood, throughout the three different floors.

In the centre of the house lies the cosy living room and dining room area, with floor-to-ceiling bay windows offering plenty of natural light, and breath-taking views of Málaga. Panoramic views over the sprawling landscape and across the Mediterranean can be admired from the sun-drenched terrace that features a sparkling pool, surrounded by lush exotic gardens, a shaded dining area with barbecue, and a chill-out area with outdoors stereo.

On the top floor of this gorgeous home you will find the attic, which can be used as a bedroom, a study, or a working space. The attic features a double sofa bed, as well as its own bathroom, and boasts knockout seascape views.
